

Behavioral Economics Term-Paper

経済学研究科

23A18014 Reio TANJI 丹治伶峰

1 Reserch Topic

Economic Evaluation of the Behavior of Athletes

- Cases from Major League Baseball Players -

In this research, I try to specify reference-dependent preference of the professional baseball players about their performance. More specifically, they prefer their “batting average” or “on-base percentage” with slightly larger than some round-numbers (.300, .350, and so on), to just below them.

2 Motivation

3 Hypothesis

4 Key Assumtions

5 Model & Data